The boy's basketball team finished 17 – 7 last season and made the playoffs and they hope to do even better this upcoming season.

Boy's Varsity basketball coach Mark Rinehart wants to see his team do well because of all the hard work and dedication the player's have put in to get as good as they are today and it would be a disappointment if they did not go where their skills and hard work could take them this season as a whole . "Several of our guys have improved over the summer by doing longer work outs and pushing themselves," said Rinehart. According to captain Joel Hill, the team is heading in the right direction this year.

Hill thinks that the biggest improvement that has been made is the devolvement of the younger players, "The people who I think will make the biggest improvement is the other team captain junior Justin Mitchell and freshman David Flynn" Said Hill.

Mitchell, unsatisfied with the way the team finished last season, expects the team to advance past last year's record and playoff appearance. "I want to see the team get at least 20 wins and go further in the playoffs past first round in districts and try to bring home a championship." said Mitchell.

The team looks very good this year with six returning players and new blood coming in from freshmen or JV players.

Cape's rivals Fort Myers and Mainer should be some of the hardest competition for the boy's basketball team this year. Hill said that the team is going to be ready to take on any team no matter how good or bad they look this time around. "The boys look the best since I have been on the team and it's nice to see the guys come together as a family," said Hill

With the first game approaching quickly, the players and coaches are making their final preparations and adjustments to try to make this season the most exciting basketball seasons in Cape High's history. "I see a lot of improvement in the team this year and I think we are going to do a lot better this season," said Rinehart.
